When to use this form

If you are under 14 years old, use this form to apply to ACAT for permission to apply to Access Canberra to change your registered sex and/or given name/s under the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1997. This Act can be found at www.legislation.act.gov.au. This form is also used to request ACAT's permission to apply for a recognised details certificate.

Applicant's representative

If you are completing this form on behalf of the applicant, please attach evidence of your authority to be a representative (such as birth certificate or court order). If you are completing this form as a Litigation Guardian for the applicant, you need to complete an Affidavit for person as Litigation Guardian and Consent and Undertaking by person to act as Litigation Guardian. These forms are available on the ACAT website (www.acat.act.gov.au).

Orders ACAT can make

If ACAT is satisfied that you understand the meaning of the change and that you believe the change better reflects your gender identity, ACAT must give you permission to apply to Access Canberra to change your registered identity details or to get a recognised details certificate. If ACAT gives you permission, you can apply to Access Canberra. More information can be found on the ACAT website (www.acat.gov.au).

Telling your parents about the application

By law, ACAT must tell your parent/s, or person/s with parental responsibility, about your application and may also give a copy of your application to them. You must tick the box on page 2 of this form to show you understand we will tell your parent/s about your application.

You can tell us that you do not want your parent/s to know about your application because you will be badly affected. Tell us how in the space on this form, or by attaching a separate piece of paper. The law says you are not badly affected only because a parent disagrees with your application and this makes you uncomfortable. ACAT will read what you provide and decide whether to tell your parent/s.

ACAT will not tell people about your application if it poses a risk to you or another person's health and safety. If ACAT decides to tell your parent/s about your application, before we tell your parents we will tell you first and give you a chance to stop your application.

Parent's consent if you are under 12

If you are under 12 years old, at least one parent or person with parental responsibility needs to agree to you making this application.

What happens after you fill in your application

You can submit your application online at www.acat.act.gov.au. Or you can fill out your application and give it to ACAT in person, by email or post. Our details are below.

We will contact you after we receive your application and tell you what the next steps will be. Usually, we will have a short hearing with you to make sure we have everything we need, and to discuss issues like telling your parent/s, giving documents and information to your parent/s, and what will happen next.

ACAT must give the Public Advocate a copy of your application and any documents or information you give to ACAT.

If you need help or you want to talk to someone about your application, there are people who may be able to give you support. You can find a list of people on the ACAT website. You can bring a support person or people with you to ACAT or have them with you when we call you.
